Adaptive Painting Challenge

Event Information

Back by popular demand, Maureen Army will again provide you with an opportunity to try your hand (not eyes) at creating a memorable piece of art. The session which is limited to 25 participants will provide you (and maybe a co-worker or two) a wonderful way to enjoy Wednesday evening with other conference attendees. For those who attended last year you will remember how successful and popular the activity turned out to be ... So don't delay since only the first 25 registrants will be able to participate.

The session will be located in one of the ballrooms adjacent to the Penn-Del AER Board's cash bar reception. This will not only allow other conference attendees to admire your work but also give you a convenient way to enjoy a favorite beverage while creating your masterpiece.

NOTE

- All materials needed for the painting activity will be provided.
- Wear casual clothing as the paints can be difficult to get out of clothing.
- Please be aware that pictures will be taken for publicity purposes.
- CEUs are available for this event. Be sure to obtain a certificate to append to verification form
